

628 S. Cook Street - Contributing

Located at 628 S. Cook Street is a two-story, frame gabled ell Folk dwelling built ca. 1900. The dwelling has a continuous brick foundation, a gable roof of asphalt shingles, an interior brick chimney and an exterior of vinyl siding. On the main (E) façade is a ca. 1990, hipped roof porch with a projecting gable over the wood stairs, square wood posts and railings. The main entrance retains its original, single-light glass and wood door. Windows are ca. 1990, one-over-one double hung vinyl sash with added muntin bars to give a six-over-six effect and vinyl clad wood cornice surrounds. A secondary entry on the main façade has a set of double French, fifteen-light doors and adjacent to the main entry door is a single-light fixed window on one side and a vinyl single-light fixed window with added muntin bars to give a sixteen-light effect. All windows and doors have a wood cornice surround with vinyl cladding. On the rear façade is a ca. 1930, single-story, shed roof addition with an screened in porch.

To the rear of the dwelling is a ca. 1990, frame, single-bay garage with an exterior of vinyl siding, a side gable roof of asphalt shingles, a glass and metal panel overhead track door and a shed roof dormer at the roofline of the main façade with a triple set of four-light fixed windows. – Noncontributing
